St. Paul Travelers Launches New Small Commercial Insurance Platform and Products

HARTFORD, Conn., March 16, 2005 – St. Paul Travelers (NYSE: STA) today announced the rollout of the enhanced Select Accounts platform for small commercial insurance. The Select platform includes new and expanded products and services designed to re-energize the marketplace for agents by making it easier for them to write more small business accounts profitably.

"Our goal in 2004 was to position our small commercial platform to exceed agent and customer expectations in 2005," said Marc Schmittlein, President and CEO of St. Paul Travelers Select Accounts. "The new platform was revamped with the intent to cover a broader customer base. By expanding our business classes, deepening our exposure appetite, and strengthening our extensive regional presence, we're setting a bold, new standard in the industry."

Effective in June, the new products, Master PacSM (proprietary composite rated) and Pac PlusSM (proprietary non-composite rated), feature expanded class eligibility with hundreds of new program codes, more embedded coverages, such as equipment breakdown and electronic data processing, coverage options, such as expanded business income for specific markets and segments, and coverage extensions.

Select Accounts has made a significant change by redefining its small business eligibility through an exposure-based definition — including property values, annual receipts, payroll and type of business — rather than a premium threshold. Schmittlein stated, "By using an exposure-based definition, St. Paul Travelers can bring a stronger combined risk appetite to more agents and brokers with Select and Commercial Accounts working together to eliminate the gap most traditional insurance companies face between their small business and middle market business units."
